

Ableton

We make Live, Push, Push+ and Link – music software and hardware for music creation and performance. With these products, our community of users create amazing things.

Ableton was founded in 1999 and released the first version of Live in 2001. Our products are used by the creativity of dedicated musicians, audio designers, and artists from across the world.

Making music isn't easy. It takes time, effort, and learning. But when you're in the flow, it's incredibly rewarding.

We feel the same way about making Ableton products. The driving force behind Ableton is our passion for what we make, and the people we make it for.

We are more than 350 people from 30 different countries divided between our headquarters in Berlin and our office in Los Angeles and Tokyo.

Most of us are active musicians, producers, and DJs, and many of us live and work away from our desks. We're a mix of introverts and extroverts, engineers and PJs, some are soft-spoken, and others as loud as a symphony in a basement. What connects us is the shared passion for music and the desire to constantly learn and share knowledge to continue to shape the future of music culture.

We believe it takes focus to create truly groundbreaking instruments. We stick with our core few products and our ability to make them great.

But there's also room for play, to try out new ideas, to explore and push the boundaries of what's possible. We've learned that achieving the best results comes from building a culture where people are free to take risks and consider multiple perspectives. We don't always agree with each other, but opinions and debate are valued and bring us together.

We're passionate about what we do, but we're equally passionate about improving what we do.

The work here is foster a environment where people can grow both personally and professionally, and we strive to create a wealth of opportunities to learn from and work with each other.

Attending an internal training program, employees are actively supported in applying new learning to their day-to-day work. We have a strong culture of cross-functional collaboration, organized development and music salons are a chance to discuss new technologies, publication milestones and best practices.

We want our employees to love it here. Since we're looking for exceptional people, we offer an excellent compensation package. We'll do everything we can to make your transition as easy as possible.

If you're staying in Berlin, we'll help with relocation and expenses. We'll even provide you with local contacts and information on what's available in the city. We offer a comprehensive health insurance plan for you and your family as well as generous maternity and paternity leave. We have a great company culture, with lots of fun, informal social group activities and team meetings throughout the year as well as a variety of fun, informal social group activities.

We're really proud of the work we've done so far. But there's so much more to come. If you'd like to be a part of it, please join us.
